

Gold Market Reestablished

At last the British government has allowed the reestablishment of the gold market for the mines of the Transvaal, South Africa. For four years past the government has placed restrictions on the export of gold from South Africa, every ounce going into either coinage or bars. The government had set a value of 77s 9d ($18.92) per fine ounce, but under the new agreement with the producers a value of approximately $20.81, or about thirteen cents in excess of the price of gold in the United States was placed on the product. Just why any price should be placed on raw gold is not apparent to the producers of that metal, as an open market would surely result in the making of a rate far in excess of the figure placed on it by the government. Even in the United States there has to be a permit obtained to allow of shipments of gold to any foreign country, possibly because the demand might be far in excess of production and a consequent higher price for the metal. It is confidently believed that were all restrictions removed from gold movement a price of close to $30 per ounce would be realized and a peculiar situation be brought about. The government could not well allow gold bars to reach a higher value than the coinage value and therefore a compromise would have to be made, which would entail a bonus arrangement until a stable market for all products could be provided.

SCHOOLS SHORT OF TEACHERS

Owing to lack of teachers many of the schools of the state will not be opened for the time being, although later on teachers that have been unable to get employment in other states may take the country jobs. Arizona demand for teachers is growing year by year and the demand for a higher grade of educational material is growing with the years. Despite the fact that thousands of teachers are being turned out every year by way of college and normal schools the demand exceeds the supply. Teachers are poorly paid as a rule and whenever opportunity comes to get into some better paying employment the schools lose a teacher. A base rate of at least $100 per month should be paid teachers and their employment should be for twelve months instead of the term, as at present. The ordinary mind cannot see why teachers should be paid when they are not working, believing that, like ball players, they should take up some other employment during vacation time. But this is a wrong idea. Teachers are paid for their ability to impart an education to a child and many of them have to take up a course of study during the vacation, the people and children getting the benefits of the knowledge acquired.

HAMMOCK FOR BABY USED IN FORD

Many a weary mother has stayed home rather than hold baby on her lap for a long auto trip. She need not do this, for it is very easy to make a hammock to be suspended back of the front seat of the Ford, and here let the baby sleep. F. C. Hathaway, County Agent of Walsh County, N. D., has used such a hammock for two children, and each has ridden many hundred miles in this way. He gives the following directions for making such a hammock:—Take two pieces 3/4-inch rope each long enough to reach from one top bow around back of the seat to the other. Splice into these two short pieces to make a rectangle about a foot wide and nearly as long as the car body is wide. Leave ends of rope at the four corners to tie to the four bows of the top. Over this rectangle fit a dennim basket about 2 feet deep. This will make a very satisfactory hammock, and one that can be used any time of the year. Baby carried in it will be happier than in mother's lap and mother will have a pleasant trip.—Farm Information Service, Extension Division North Dakota Agricultural College.

Probably Both

"That woman on the corner, waiting for a trolley car, refused your offer of a lift rather superciliously."
"So she did," replied the obliging man. "And now I'll never know if she turned up her nose at my company or my flivver."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
